

NEW IMMIGRANT FLOOD ON WAY

Now its OFFICIAL!
London Councils told to plan for 1 million more

THE GOVERNMENT has told Councils to plan for receiving another massive flood of immigrants. London will bear the brunt of the influx with one million more. The new immigration figures take no account of what will happen if Britain is forced by the EC to abandon its border controls.

The migrants will need an extra 500,000 homes around and in London. The Government claimed in 1991 that zero net immigration was expected. Environment Secretary John Gummer has called on Local Authorities to take into account the new figures in their plans. The Government has said nothing about stopping the flow, despite constant ministerial statements about having immigration 'under control'.

EUROPE

The Government says that most of the immigrants will come from Europe. Since Europe is now packed with immigrants from elsewhere - who cannot wait to get into 'soft touch' Britain - this country knows what to expect.

The new flood is expected over the next 15 years. Since Governments in Britain always play down immigration figures, and have, in fact, lied over and over again, all the indications are that public opinion is being prepared for even greater numbers.

The figures take no account of EC plans to force Britain to abandon all border controls. Mrs. Thatcher's claimed 1985

'opt out' from this arrangement is legally worthless. Since Thatcher is a barrister she must have been fully aware of this at the time.

SCHENGEN

If border controls are removed then millions of illegal immigrants within Europe will follow those with papers into Britain. They are already flooding across other European borders following the implementation of the Schengen treaty on March 26.

The Government's instruction to Councils to plan for housing millions more immigrants is a public admission that the future influx is to be unlimited.

TOP MP LIVES WITH ILLEGAL IMMIGRANT

LIBERAL DEMOCRAT MP Simon Hughes is sharing his home with an illegal immigrant. The bachelor MP, who is the Lib Dems Community Relations spokesman, took Carl Wilkinson in to live with him after the West Indian was thrown out of his home by his wife.

Wilkinson's wife Fiona, who is white, says that he only married her to stay in Britain, and that he spent years beating her up. The couple have a 4-year-old child, who was forced regularly to watch as Wilkinson savagely beat her - leaving the woman with cuts and bruises. She says she never wants to see her husband again.

The Home office has confirmed that 37-year-old Wilkinson is an illegal immigrant, who is fighting deportation after overstaying a visa. A Court last year ordered him not to go within a mile of his wife.

Fiona Wilkinson says that she asked Hughes to help the Barbadian thug to remain in Britain in 1989, and is mystified as to how he came to move in with the MP.

Hughes says he is happy to have Wilkinson living with him because his 'relationship had broken down', and that the wife beater is a lodger who pays £50 a week in rent. The MP believes that "The only fair outcome is that he be allowed to stay in Britain". The happy couple are pictured above at their front door.

BN says that people all over Britain will feel sorry for Mr. Hughes, whose salary as an MP is clearly so low that he has to take in lodgers to get by!

SPEAKING WITH FORKED TONGUES OF SEMTEX

The decision by President Clinton to allow Gerry Adams entry into the United States on a fund raising expedition should cause no surprise to the people of this country.

The fact that surprise is expressed merely indicates the mood of unreality which media and Government propaganda have engendered in Britain during the fifty years since the war.

The United States is no genuine friend of Britain - nor has it been for most of this century. Government anger at the US decision is merely the chickens coming home after a prolonged deception.

The Government would, of course, claim that the affair is a Clintonesque blip in the 'special relationship' with our closest ally. The reality is that the US has regarded Britain, and its Empire in former times, as a world rival for at least a century.

Adams and his Sinn Fein colleagues have rightly been described as speaking with 'tongues of Semtex'. The IRA talk of peace while maintaining huge stocks of weapons and tons of explosive.

The US speaks with a forked tongue of wishing to see peace in Ireland when the real objective is what it has always been - to subjugate Britain as the tame satellite of America.

When this country was desperate for ships in 1940 the US cynically sold us, at an inflated price, fifty ancient and useless destroyers, only one of which could be made fit for active service - and that obsolete purchase soon ended its life sunk as a block ship.

Immediately after the war the US enforced on Britain the abandonment of preferential treatment for trade with our Empire partners - as the humiliating price of a loan for an impoverished country.

Britain is now a tame poodle desperate for any sign of favour from its US master - a master which has already decided to weaken its pet little by little as the opportunity arises to do so - without making its intention transparently obvious.

The US claims that the Adams visit is intended to better pressure the IRA into giving up its arms. That may well be true. The US will order the IRA to give up its massive arsenal when Britain has travelled far enough down the road to dismantling its country to satisfy the United States.

THEY CALL IT A CHURCH!

- Homosexual Bishops
- Lesbian priests
- Vicars' child abuse pledge

HOMOSEXUAL Bishops, lesbian priests, and now Church of England vicars are being asked to sign a child abuse pledge - can they really call it a 'church' any more?

The Church of England has now almost entirely abandoned any pretension to follow the Christian religion in favour of a multitude of left-wing and fashionably 'politically correct' causes. Dissenters who believe that churches should be about religion have no say whatever in the new Church of England.

Now new clergy in the Diocese of Ely will be ordered to sign a pledge that they are not child abusers!

QUEER BISHOPS

THE newly appointed Bishop of Durham, Dr. Michael Turnbull, was exposed last year as having been arrested for an act of gross indecency in a public lavatory. Now two other Bishops have been revealed as homosexual.

Derek Rawcliffe, the Assistant Bishop of Ripon, revealed that he was a homosexual after a lecture he gave on the need for the church to 'help prevent a morally bewildered generation'!

Bishop Rawcliffe says that he began his career as a homosexual with another deviant on a Pacific Island. When his wife died he returned to his perverted way of life. He says that he wants to see homosexuals blessed in church - thus effectively introducing homosexual marriages.

His father-in-law says that it became clear within a few weeks of Rawcliffe's marriage that he was more interested in a 'certain type of man' than in his daughter.

Now the Bishop of London, the Rt Rev David Hope, has been shown to be yet another senior clergyman to be homosexual. The Bishop, once expected to become Archbishop of Canterbury, says "Some may choose to describe themselves as homosexual or heterosexual - for some the area is slightly greyer. That's the sort of area I find myself in".

Dr. Hope once headed St. Stephens theological college in Oxford, described by a former student as 'Sodom and Gomorrah - nearly everyone was sodden with gin'. Dr. Hope oddly made great play of a crackdown on homosexuality at the college. He was nicknamed Ena by the perverted priests.

Behind the current campaign for 'homosexual rights' within the Church of England lies a far wider agenda - the right for perverts to adopt children, for example. The tragedy is that few clergymen who are normal will fight back.

Rt Rev Derek Rawcliffe - the openly homosexual Bishop of Ripon

Bishop of London Rt Rev David Hope - finds self in a 'grey area'

How long before 'Homosexual weddings' are seen in your local church?

Homosexual actor Sir Ian McKellen has called for pages condemning homosexuality to be torn out of Bibles. He told a cheering audience in Edinburgh recently that he toured the world tearing out the passage in bibles, placed in hotel rooms, which describe homosexuality as an abomination.

LESBIAN PRIESTS

A lesbian priest has openly admitted it - the first case of its kind in the Church of England. Reverend Ros Hunt, a chaplain in the diocese of Ely, has said that she has no reason to hide her lesbianism. "I'm an 'out' dyke" she told the Press. Hunt used to be a Cambridge University student chaplain.

CHILD ABUSE PLEDGE

All new clergy in the diocese of Ely will now have to sign an anti-child abuse pledge. The Bishop of Ely wants clergy to sign a declaration revealing previous criminal offences against children. The move follows scandals including the hushing up of abuse of a 13-year-old girl by a minister.

Incredible world of Barings revealed 'GISSA OUR BONUSES' - SAY BUST BANKERS

PICTURE the scene. You are an international banker. You have just lost £500m. gambling on what are called 'derivatives' - little different from putting all the bank's money on the 2.30 at Ascot and losing. You are called in by the Bank of England to explain what has happened. What do you say? Oh dear! Sorry! Whoops! None of these in fact. Welcome to the incredible world of international banking!

Early in March the Bank of England summoned leading bankers from all over the City of London to an emergency meeting. Barings Bank had failed and an emergency operation was needed to prop it up.

If any bank is allowed to go to the wall it can cause a panic in which there is a run on other banks, and a series of further domino-style failures. That is exactly what happened in 1931, when the Austrian Creditanstalt bank failed, and ten thousand banks in the US alone followed it into disaster - as every banker knows.

At the meeting in the City of London's Threadneedle Street the Deputy Chairman of Barings, Andrew Tuckey, made an incredible statement - Barings' conditions for accepting help! The rescue plan must leave all the banking family's invested money intact - and all the bonuses for good performance due to staff. No this is not a misprint, the staff must get £95m. for good performance! Such is the unreal world in which bankers live.

The bankers snacked on pizza at the afternoon wore on. The losses of Barings appeared unlimited. The Sultan of Brunei was contacted as a possible rescuer. Barings had gone bust once before, at the end of the 18th. century, and been bailed out by the Bank of England.

This time, to the sheer amazement of Baring's top management, the Bank of England would not pay up. Seeing this other big banks would not chip in either. Oh dear!

LOADSAMONEY!

A few days after the meeting a rescuer was found. Dutch banking group ING bought Barings for nothing. Now we come to a good bit. They paid out £105m. in bonuses to Barings staff as a part of the deal, and £10m. to the owners of Barings whose shares were worthless!

The bondholders in the bank - people who had simply lent money to Barings thinking it a sound organisation - got - precisely nothing! Now we come to an even better bit. The top management in Barings, you might imagine, would never work in a bank again. Wrong!

The men who had bankrupted the Queen's bank were taken on by ING to carry on running it! Almost the entire board of Barings were just able to carry on as though nothing had happened.

REVOLT

The bondholders, meanwhile, who had played no part in running the business, were offered £7.5m. for their lost £100m. They are considering suing the directors of Barings.

Barings are now facing a client boycott. Many of the firms and individuals, who used to employ Barings to invest in, are in revolt. Tom Crombie of Scottish Equitable said "ING and the Bank of England have stitched us up".

Welcome to the wonderful world of international banking!

Richard Everitt: bail fury

STREET battles between Asians and whites flared recently in London's Camden area when three Asians charged in connection with the murder of Richard Everitt were freed on bail. The Everitt family are dismayed at the decision, by an Old Bailey Judge, to grant bail to Showkat Akbar Miah, 19, Jorif Uddin, 20, and Nasir Boshir, 18.

One defendant among the six charged following the murder, Abdul Hai, 19, was refused bail when all the six Asians appeared before Clerkenwell Magistrates.

Hai, together with Alaur Rahman, 18, and Badrul Miah, 20, are charged with murder. The others are charged with violent disorder. Hai and Miah are additionally charged with conspiracy to pervert the course of justice.

Richard Everitt was murdered last August by a gang of Asians, at King's X, because he was white. His family now feel disillusioned with their treatment following the murder. They have complained that large gangs of Asians are permitted to attend Court appearances by the accused, and that they have been jostled and laughed at in an attempt to intimidate them. There is deep resentment among the white community in Somers Town, where Richard lived, at the craven behaviour of the authorities.

IRA RACKETEERS TO RULE ULSTER

Godfathers of Republican terrorism to build one of world's leading criminal organisations

THE British Government is working effectively to hand over Northern Ireland to the IRA, and its mouthpiece Sinn Féin. Behind all the rhetoric of 'agreed solutions' and democracy the vast majority of people in Northern Ireland, who are staunchly British, are being forced to accept a gradual dismantling of their heritage.

The IRA, following last year's ceasefire, which will last as long as it serves their interests, is reinventing itself as an unashamedly criminal organisation run on the same lines as the Mafia. The godfathers of the Republican movement intend to become leaders of one of the world's most powerful criminal organisations. These are the people with whom our Government is now negotiating - after some deft footwork to persuade public opinion that the organisation is composed of 'men of peace' who are proceeding to disarm.

OPPORTUNITY

UNITED STATES

The 1994 ceasefire has given the IRA breathing space to extend an already Mafia style organisation, not only in Northern Ireland, but in the South too.

In the US the IRA works with Irish-American gangs in loan sharking, extortion, and drug deals. Noraid, the fund raising arm in the United States emanates from the decision by the US Justice Department not to pursue Noraid for unpaid taxes - despite the fact that the organisation openly admits that its purpose is to raise money for terrorism.

THE IRA'S 1994 INCOME

Fruit Machines	£500,000
Black Taxis	£750,000
Charities	£250,000
Video Pirating	£1,000,000
Smuggling	£1,000,000
Social Clubs	£500,000
Construction	£2,000,000
Armed Robberies	£750,000
Legal Business	£1,000,000
Fraud and Extortion	£1,000,000
Overseas	£250,000
ANNUAL INCOME	£9,000,000

Dublin drug barons have been told 'We can make you rich, or we can make you dead'. One who refused to work with the IRA, Dublin's most feared gangster Martin Cahill, was murdered last year.

The IRA needs £9m. a year to fund its operations, and is funnelling the proceeds from extortion and robbery into legitimate businesses - a technique pioneered by the Mafia. Police are even watching a company registered on the London Stock Exchange, which is believed to launder money for the IRA.

In Ulster the big growth area is drugs. The IRA has increased the supply so much in Londonderry that street prices for some drugs have collapsed dramatically in recent months.

collects about £80,000 a year for the Republican cause. An indication of how special Britain's 'special relationship' with the US really is Washington, which they describe as a 'diplomatic mission'. They promised the US Government that the accounts would be audited!

The IRA is said by US Customs to be scouring the country for arms, including sniper rifles, and surface-to-air-missiles. If the order is given to return to campaigns of bombing the IRA terrorists will be better equipped than ever.

President Clinton has justified the decision to meet and shake hands with Adams, the former Chief of Staff of the IRA, by claiming that the objective is to put pressure on the IRA to disarm. The real purpose is to help Adams and his criminal gang to break up the U.K.

Sinn Féin have now opened an office in

ARSENAL

The IRA has a massive arsenal of weapons hidden all over Ulster and Southern Ireland. Included in the haul is 2 tons of Semtex - enough to keep up a bombing campaign for years! They have hundred of assault rifles, machine guns, and several surface-to-air missiles, which can bring down an aircraft.

The technique often used by the IRA during their bombing campaigns is to use a small amount of Semtex surrounded by home made explosive. Thus very little has to be bought in the way of military equipment to sustain bombings.

DISARMING

The British Government claimed, for public relations purposes, that no direct negotiations would take place with Sinn Féin until they disarmed. This requirement is now being gradually dropped. The Government will now openly negotiate with a fully armed terrorist organisation operating within Britain.

The IRA are already practising for renewed bombings of the City of London. Units have carried out dummy attacks on the Stock Exchange, Lloyds and the National Westminster Bank tower, to test defences.

In Ulster a senior RUC officer has said that the Provisionals are monitoring security at army bases, and collecting registration numbers of police and army vehicles.

BEATINGS

While Gerry Adams poses in the US as a 'man of peace', punishment beatings by the IRA continue in Ulster. Among the weapons used in dozens of attacks are clubs studded with nails.

One man in Cookstown was tied to a chair with flex. His legs were then broken with iron bars. The objective is to keep control of Catholic areas in the hands of the IRA, not the police.

VIETCONG

Baroness Park, in the House of Lords last October, likened the tactics used by the IRA to those of the Vietcong.

Their leaders claimed to be doves who could only prevail over the hawks if they received endless concessions - when both were completely united.

Gerry Adams keeps an eye on his friend Bill Clinton - who is certainly no friend of Britain's!

BN CURRYWATCH

'Special Tonight Sir - Green Lemon Mould and Brown Liquid Lettuce Curry'

BN's 'Currywatch' is in Bristol's Cotham Hill again this month - home of The Balti House restaurant, which was fined £13,000 recently after underpants were found in the carrots.

Last month our gastronomes were out in Dudley reporting on Lye International Tandoori which was fined £2,600 after Health Inspectors found cobwebs around the stoves, and slug trails in the food supplies.

Our team of food lovers have now discovered Cotham's Taj Mahal, and an entirely new eating experience! Move over Egon Ronay, we are after your food critics crown!

When Council officers visited the Taj Mahal last May they found dirty floors, shelving, and kitchen canopy. The refrigerator, chopping board, tin opener and frying pan were also dirty, and there was no soap or clean towels at the hand basin. Grease and debris lay around kitchen surfaces, and much else.

On the food preparation table lay a lemon turning green with mould. A lettuce was turning into brown liquid, and a pepper decomposing.

Bristol magistrates subsequently convicted the owner, Mr. Amir Ali, 38, of 10 hygiene offences. Mr. Ali had prior convictions for similar offences. He told the Court that he was a bankrupt, but was still opening the restaurant, and that the Council were picking on him. Bristol magistrates adjourned sentencing.

BN's inspectors will keep you informed of the very best in eating out. Bon Appetit!

London Crack Seizures Up Sixfold

Seizures of crack cocaine by the Metropolitan Police have increased sixfold during the last year. Nationally the quantity of the lethal drug located by police has more than doubled during the same period.

The figures come from the National Criminal Intelligence Service, which further warned of the spread of the drug into rural areas.

Crack is so addictive that a single dose is sufficient to bind addicts to its use. American cities are being blighted by this far more potent derivative of cocaine.

One Oxford crack addict in University town Oxford carried out 15 muggings in a single day until he was arrested recently. Others carried out a series of armed robberies around the city.

Much of the trade is carried out by Jamaican 'Yardie' gangs. Detective Sergeant Brennan, Britain's leading expert on the gangs, said recently that there was a 'traditional reluctance' by police and politicians to attack the Yardies for fear of being accused of 'racism'.

BN says that the same applies to all too many illegal acts. The Crown Prosecution Service is also notorious for its 'politically correct' line.

IN OUR POSTBAG

FOR THE ATTENTION OF ES STAFF

MENTORING FOR PEOPLE FROM AN ETHNIC MINORITY ORIGIN IN THE ES

A new initiative is being introduced which aims to enhance the career prospects of staff from the ethnic minorities. Mentees for this scheme were recently sought (see NWCN 50/94).

Mentors, at EO grade and above, from any ethnic background are now sought. Volunteers from the ethnic minorities would be particularly welcome.

The mentor will act as a role model and help the mentee to identify areas for individual improvement. They will also be expected to share their experience and knowledge of issues such as time management, interview and influencing skills and assertiveness. Please note that time consumption for both mentees and mentors is expected to be minimal.

If you require further details, please ring Helen Willars on 061 873 1205 and if you are interested in becoming a mentor please send, by 16 February, your name, grade and location to:

THE 'RAINBOW ALLIANCE' FRACTURES

THE SO-CALLED 'anti-racist' movement in Britain is fracturing fast under its own massive internal contradictions. The 'rainbow alliance' of Afro-Caribbeans, Asians, Jews, and white communists was fatally flawed from the outset by the entirely contradictory political and economic ambitions of the groupings involved. Added to the brew is the inevitable power struggle among leaders fighting to position their snouts in the rich trough of public money available for any organisation working to destroy this country.

Put simply, black leaders have naught in common with small Asian businessmen - and even less with white Trotskyite groups. Any black group which starts up in the 'anti-racist' business is quickly infiltrated by Trotskyites, who are unable to make any headway under their own banner, and find 'anti-racism' a useful front for their own tactic of promoting social breakdown.

The Anti-Racist Alliance, or ARA, has been brought to the brink of collapse partly by the massive media push it has received. With support comes money, and with money flow in various factions which climb aboard for their own purposes. The Labour Party's drive for internal 'black sections' is now engaged in internal war since Asians say that they do not want to be regarded as black!

The tragedy for ethnic people is that their welfare becomes forgotten in empire building among opportunist politicians. Debate on a rational solution to the multi-racial madness inflicted on both black and white people in Britain, which our party seeks to advance, is swamped in a sea of nonsense

How far is Mr. Blair prepared to go in pretending Labour has moved to the right?

'Don't call us British' say Blacks

BLACK people hate being called British according to a new report. The study, by the independent Policy Studies Institute, says that even blacks born in Britain dislike the description 'British'.

The report, titled Changing Ethnic Identities, found that blacks born here prefer to be called 'black'. Blacks who came to the UK in the 1950s like to be called West Indian.

Black people in Britain find that being proud of their heritage and passing it on to their children is incompatible with feeling British.

The term 'British' sticks in the throats of many blacks, says the report written by Tariq Modood. He demands that there should be a variety of ways of being British.

BN says that the term British then becomes meaningless - except as a description of a person living in Britain - which is, of course, precisely the intention. Who asks the British whether they agree?

'Don't call us Black' say Asians

THE LABOUR PARTY is engaged in a furious internal struggle over the name of the new 'black sections' in the party.

The suggested title Black Socialist Society had plunged blacks and Asians into a war in which relations had 'plunged to ridiculous depths' according to secretary Jatin Haria. A year had been wasted as telephone calls went unreturned. Asians felt excluded by the term 'black'.

An Asian former Councillor, Ahmad Shazad, from Brent East Black Socialist Society says "People from our community prefer to be called Asian".

The BSS began in 1993 after ten years endless wrangling over ethnic demands, and a compromise deal.

'Neo-Nazi' attack on choirboys

A HEADMASTER has condemned as 'neo-Nazi' a vicious attack on choirboys by a twenty strong Asian gang carrying knives and hammers.

The attack took place when ten boys and girls from Hulme Grammar School in Oldham took a break from school choir practice to visit a sweetshop. Local police said that there had been several similar attacks on whites in the area recently.

One pupil, Charles Sykes, 14, was taken to hospital with severe head injuries, and a knife wound to his leg. His mother said that he had been traumatised by the experience. The school's headmaster, Geoffrey Dunkin, said that his pupils could easily have been murdered.

The attack was completely unprovoked, and for once police were prepared to admit a racial motivation - unlike so many other cases in which there appears to be one definition of 'racist' for whites and another for blacks. For once the media did not suppress coverage of the story, using their usual alibi of 'responsible reporting'!

LABOUR'S TROTSKYITES BRING DOWN ARA

THE Anti-Racist Alliance has been torn apart by infighting. Three years after its formation the much vaunted campaign, which boasted the Labour Party and 90 MPs, as backers, split in a welter of hatred late last year.

Black reporter Marc Wadsworth, who managed the organisation, enjoying a salary of no less than £24,000, accused the black MP Diane Abbott, and Ken Livingstone MP, of backing Trotskyite infiltrators.

"Anybody who is a Trot-watcher will know that they target groups like ARA with metronomic timing, do their dirty work and move on" he says. The purpose was to undermine the organisation, and make for a new one which would employ the violence seen during the Welling riot of 1993, when dozens of police officers were injured in an attempted assault on the BNP's shop. Abbott, who has publicly called for the BNP to be stopped 'by any means necessary', would act as a front.

The organisation's finance manager, Giampi Aldaheff, says that the Trots made no secret of what they were doing, and that the place was 'riddled from top to bottom with them'.

Muslims Disrupt Jewish 'Anti-Racist' Student Campaign

MUSLIM MILITANTS prevented a Jewish student leader from speaking at the recent launch of a London Area National Union of Students 'anti-racist' campaign.

Jeremy Newmark was shouted down by cries of 'Allah akbar' and 'What Holocaust' when he tried to address the meeting at University College.

The demonstrators said that Mr. Newmark was a racist and a fascist collaborator, propagating vomit and filth, and asked him whether he belonged to the human race.

"Which Holocaust is he talking about. You have the gall to come here and talk about racism. You don't have a monopoly on suffering! You can't just go to Tesco and buy it" shouted one Muslim at the meeting.

Another speaker was described as having a 'perverse and disgusting mind' when he spoke about 'lesbian and gay rights'. A representative of Searchlight was also shouted down.

Mr. Newmark complained that Holocaust 'denial' books were being distributed by well-known publishers, and stocked in college libraries, to a background of chanting of anti-Israel slogans by two-thirds of the audience who punched the air.

The black Labour MP Bernie Grant was to have attended the meeting, and given the final speech, but decided not to after it turned rowdy.

TO THE POINT

I.I. Muraben is right to be proud of the worldly success of his fellow Jews, but wrong to attribute it to the bracing effects of adversity.

Adversity hasn't done much for the Gypsies, the blacks of America, or the untouchables of India. Jews succeed because they are cleverer than Christians, and they are cleverer because their religion has influenced them to breed for intelligence, while Christians have been breeding for stupidity.

Until recently a clever boy from a poor Jewish family would naturally gravitate to the rabbinate, his studies subsidised by a wealthy patron, whose daughter he would often marry. As rabbi he would be expected to set an example to the community by begetting a large family.

The same boy, born a Christian, would probably become a celibate priest.

'Race war' threats after student murder

STUDENTS at East London's Newham College have threatened 'war' after a black student was murdered by Asians. The student, Ayotunde Obanubi, 20, was stabbed to death against the railings outside the college - which has become like US colleges during recent years with gangs divided along racial lines.

Obanubi, a Nigerian with a withered arm, was killed by 15 Asians following, according to other students, an argument over table tennis. The police, however, say that another motive was involved which they will not disclose at present.

The college is 70% ethnic, and Muslims militants have taken over the library, driving white and non-Muslim students out. One white student said that he was forced to use the public library to study. The college library is used for Islamic meetings. Asian gangs have stormed around the buildings shouting 'Allah akhbar'.

Four days before the murder the college was visited by Omni Bakri, the leader of Hizb, the militant Islamic group, which operates in Britain from premises in North London's Edmonton.

The group has called for a holy war between Muslims and Jews. Britain is now host to foreign wars conducted on our soil, following the insane policy of mass immigration. British students in our capital city cannot even use their own college library in East London.

'BLACK UP AND BEND OVER' - SAY BARMY BURGHERS

LOONY-LEFT CAMDEN, the London Borough which once sold its lamp posts to raise cash for potty causes, has once again made the running in the 'political correctness' stakes.

The Council has included in the new Borough Plan a clause giving ethnic minorities and homosexuals 'priority status' in planning matters.

All Councils are required by law to prepare a statement of the Borough's objectives concerning housing, transport and so on. Most plans are non-controversial and merely say that Councils wish to see more jobs created, and other non-controversial objectives.

PRIORITY GROUPS

Camden's new plan remedies this shocking breach of 'equality' policy'. The new plan says that 'in determining applications for planning permission and in carrying out its environmental improvements, the Council will take into consideration the needs of priority groups and disadvantaged groups'.

Who are the 'disadvantaged groups'? Yes you've guessed it! They include ethnic minorities, homosexuals, and lesbians. Just about everyone except - yes you've guessed it - white men!

The Leader of the Council, Richard Arthur, said that it was sad that the policy had been 'taken out of context' in the local press.

Camden funds the Camden Racial Equality Council which ran the disgraceful and libellous campaign against local police officers reported on in last month's issue. The local Camden New Journal was forced to pay £30,000 in costs and damages after saying that local police had tossed a black baby like a rugby ball.

The whole Camden establishment is composed of disgusting people who will stop at nothing to destroy everything decent in Britain, and extreme left-wing councillors who hate normal white folk.

NEW ARISTOCRACY?

Camden is launching a new 'equalities' program 'Valuing Diversity'. Perhaps it should be called 'Valuing Perversity' in view of its homosexual agenda! Are homosexuals now Britain's new aristocracy?

Camden Tories have called it 'PC gone mad'. The same might be said of their national policy of giving homosexuals with Aids legal access to 18 year old boys.

HOME IMPROVEMENT

Residents in Camden now know what to do if they wish to improve their homes - black up and bend over!

●The evil Commission For Racial Equality is pressing hard for racial quotas to be introduced into all employment in Britain. The Government is putting up a show of token resistance - before giving in.

THE WISDOM OF LABOUR!

"I mean that's an example of this Government that believes in the private sector and is in fact damaged the public sector's handling within the public sector in a number of these areas and you can go on with them in another areas. So I think the basic point that it is necessary in order to have private capital in our industries to get the extra resources that we do want, that you have to be privatised is not borne out by the facts in other countries and neither we should we have it here also and if he's any doubts about that go and have a look at the reports that talk it".

Deputy Labour Party Leader John Prescott - House of Commons May 1992

Plain tales of life in Britain

HOSPITAL BED DID NOT FACE MECCA!

A MR. G. BROWN of Ilkley fell ill recently. He suffered a perforated ulcer - a life threatening condition needing immediate medical attention.

He was admitted to the West Yorkshire Hospital near Keighley, and given a private room, in view of his serious condition.

After a short period in hospital he was suddenly moved out of his room into an ordinary ward. Was this because he was recovering from his illness, and needed less close attention. Well no - not exactly!

A Muslim lady had complained that her bed, in an ordinary ward, did not enable her to say her prayers correctly. The bed was not aligned with Mecca! The bed in Mr. Brown's room was correctly aligned with the Middle Eastern city!

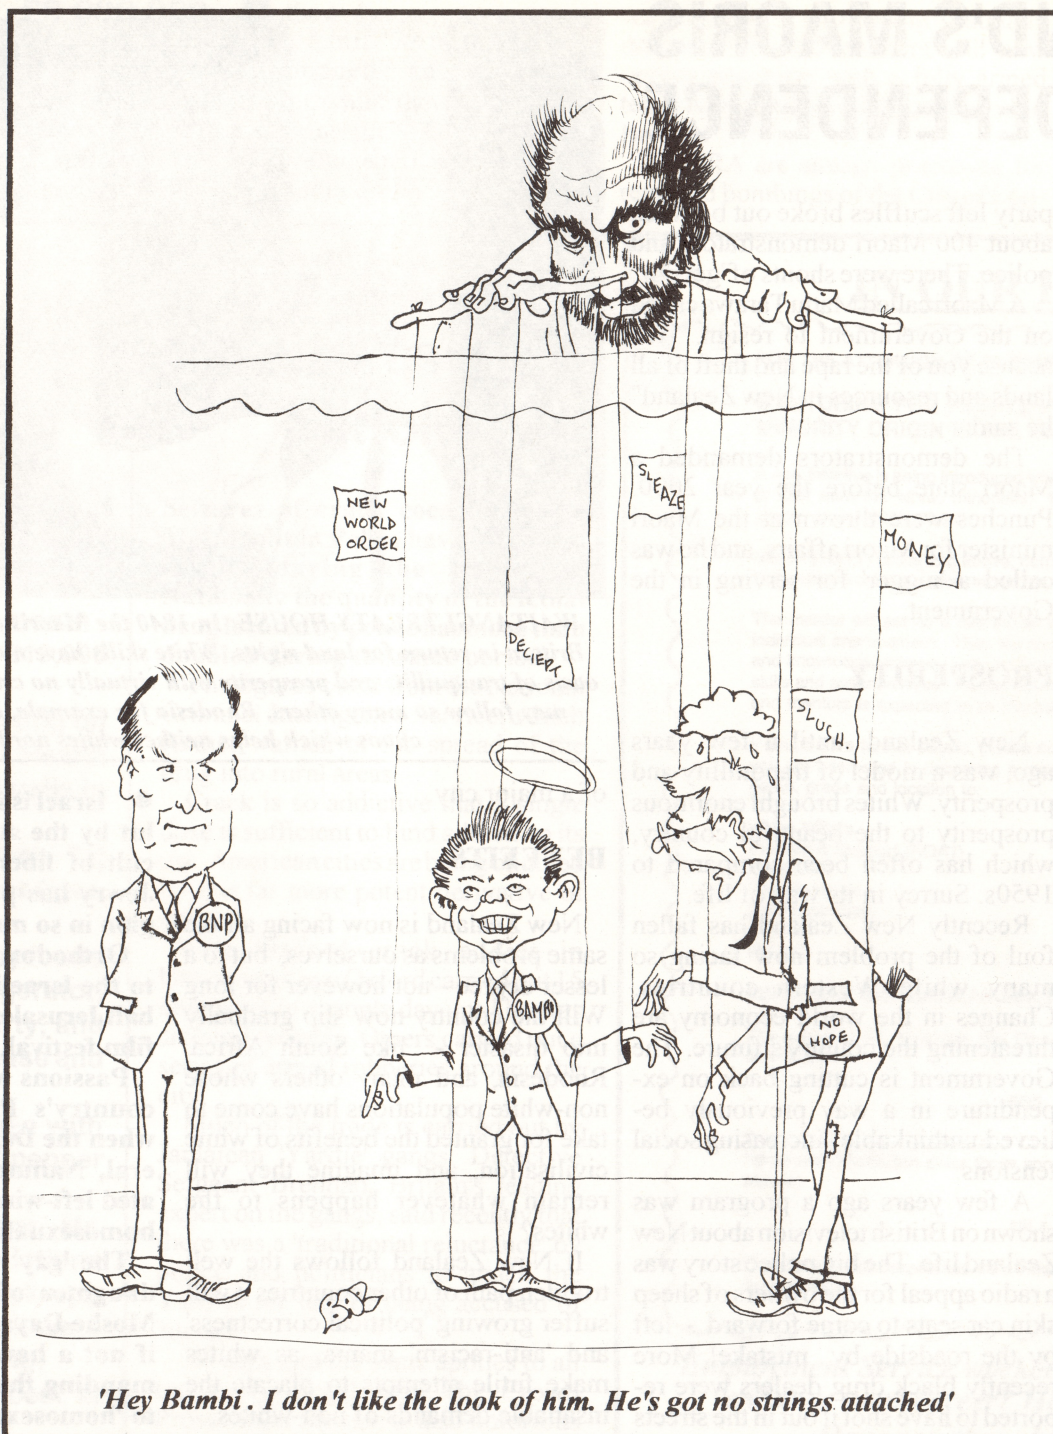

If Mr. Brown had done the decent thing he would, of course, have made sure he went into hospital carrying a compass. Once inside he would have checked his bed, and informed staff of the potential complications which might set in during his treatment. Mr. Brown should have been more careful.

Once in the ordinary ward Mr. Brown had great difficulty sleeping. Anyone who has been in hospital knows the difficulties faced by patients in getting an adequate night's sleep. Worries about whether one will get better crowd through the mind.

Was this the problem faced by Mr. Brown? Well no - not exactly! His nights were interrupted by the noise of Muslims performing their rituals in the early hours.

Clearly an urgent programme of rebuilding of British hospitals is needed. No Muslim should have to face the difficulties suffered by the lady in the West Yorkshire Hospital. All hospitals must be rebuilt to make all the beds face Mecca.

How else are we in Britain to avoid charges of discrimination?

'Hey Bambi. I don't like the look of him. He's got no strings attached'

BN BRIEFING

NO POLITICS PLEASE
WE'RE TORIES!

BN learns that organisers of local branches of the Tory party are instructed to avoid politics as far as possible. The average local member intensely dislikes the policies of his own party - especially as most of them are elderly and remember the Conservatives before they became liberals. Better not annoy the members!

Organisers are told by Conservative Central Office that they should stick to fund-raising, and the many social events which bring home the monetary bacon.

The political party that avoids politics really is a remarkable invention. What will they think of next?

In one typical branch - in a supposedly 'strong Conservative Shire' we learn that there is only one member under sixty, and he says that the Tories will not exist in ten years - they will mostly be dead of old age! The party has had to put up posters appealing for members to stand in local elections, and assuring them that no work will be required, since 'paper' candidates are now accepted as the best which can be had for many wards.

Mind you the supper evenings are enjoyable and well organised. Now that politics is off the agenda the important business of a good supper can assume its true importance!

ONE THAT GOT AWAY

Last summer a Trotskyite group organised a demonstration against a BNP member near Southampton. A counter-demo by local BNP members was organised.

The Southampton based, and virulently left-wing Daily Echo, took pictures on the day. The anti-BNP group was composed of dog-on-string and green spiky hair types.

Clearly it would never do to let the public see the type of person who supports the left, or that the BNP group was extremely respectable in appearance. What to do?

The editor of the Echo had a brainwave! Use a photo of the BNP group and pretend in the newspaper that it was the lefty group.

Thus BNP members promptly appeared in the paper as valiant Trots.

Can you believe that journalists talk about 'professional standards'?

SARIS IN SHROPSHIRE

The headmaster of a Primary School in Shropshire was recently told by the local Council that he must abolish Xmas in his school, and institute a 'multi-cultural festival'. Ber-ber-ber-but said stout pedagogue "There are no ethnic minority children in my school, and I have no resources".

Accepted replied Council, but these details must not stand in the way of the new multi-culti Britain. "We will lend you some saris".

Who could make it up!

PRAISE AT LAST!

The impossible has happened. The BNP has been praised - albeit in a small way - by another political party!

At the count, following the Weavers Ward election in Tower Hamlets during February, the Independent Liberal candidate praised the disciplined behaviour of the BNP. In his speech the Liberal paid tribute to civilised BNP behaviour at polling stations - in the face of massive intimidation by extreme left-wing elements.

Are pigs now flying in the sky?

We never thought we'd say it but for once we can... WELL DONE THE PRESS!

THE Hounslow Feltham & Hanworth Times has stood up for freedom of speech against the totalitarianism of the Labour Party.

For once the BNP does not have to report yet another instance of the controlled media suppressing the views of the vast majority of decent British people, who have no voice except the BNP to speak up for them and their future.

Labour controlled Hounslow Council recently threatened to withdraw all advertising from the Times unless the newspaper agreed not to print any more letters from local BNP Organiser Warren Glass and other BNP members - or any letters at all voicing other than an extreme left-wing viewpoint.

The Editor of the Times responded by vowing to uphold freedom of speech, (coverage on right) and describing the Council's threat - instigated by the Mayor Govind Agarwal - as 'fascism of the left'.

NO BLACKLIST

The Editor, Malcolm Richards, said in a statement that "no self respecting editor who cherished the right of free speech could accept a blacklist of individuals drawn up by one political party, and deny them the freedom of speech to which we are all entitled to in Britain. The idea of withdrawing advertising is an affront to democratic principles, and a step towards the kind of totalitarian regime that has just been overthrown in the Communist Empires. We must never allow one political party to decide who shall be allowed to criticise their policies".

Mr. Richards said that what Labour really objected to about the BNP letters was anyone challenging the levels of immigration currently permitted - Labour called it a 'hidden agenda'.

'ANTI-RACIST' WASHOUT

The Hounslow Times printed in the same issue a letter from Warren Glass referring to an 'anti-racist' march held in Hounslow the previous week. Described by the Times as a 'washout' the organisers had claimed 6,000 people would attend. In the event it was about 150!

As Mr. Glass pointed out, and judging by election results, there are more BNP supporters in one ward of the Borough, Heston East, than supporters of the extreme left in the whole of London - at least judged by the march turnout! The march was a waste of taxpayers' money.

Prominent among march banners was the Anti-Racist Alliance which is on its last legs with inter-racial internal squabbles. (report on page 4)

Successful northern meetings

Party Chairman John Tyndall addressed two very successful meetings during February, on a short tour of the North.

About eighty people attended the first meeting in Glasgow on February 18. Mr. Tyndall spoke of the hopelessness of young people in a country which had dismantled large parts of its economy, and of the attempts by schools to make Britons ashamed of their country.

The meeting was also addressed by Dr. Donald Clarke and Mr. Harry Mullin. Scottish Organiser Scott McLean chaired.

In Lincoln, on February 20th., seventy attended a meeting held by the new Lincoln Unit. Frank Kimbal Johnson joined John Tyndall on the platform, with Tony Braithwaite as the evening's Chairman.

The excellent attendance, for a very new branch, reflected the growth of support in the Lincoln area for British Nationalism and the BNP.

your publication because it spotlights issues that the controlled media either soft-pedal, ignore, or try to cover up. All I will say is that the BNP is certainly no worse than any other party, and on current showing a sight better than most.

I am at a loss to understand why the Catholic church regards the BNP as a political pariah, while the abominable Labour party is socially acceptable. Why do the bishops not tell their flock that no Catholic can rightly support Labour since they must know it is a Marxist organisation.

On another topic, I lived through the Second World War and shudder to think how we would have fared in our present position with virtually no ship-building industry or merchant navy. I know an ex-merchant navy man with a Master Engineer ticket. He has been selling ice cream for fifteen years, since he is unable to find sea going employment.

Sir:

I would like the pro-IRA activities at the recent England-Ireland match in Dublin to be made known to readers.

Outside the ground there were IRA stickers everywhere, and republican magazines being sold.

As usual there was no mention of this in the media. Most of the rioters were not nationalists but average Britons sick of the way we have given in to the IRA gunmen.

YOUR LETTERS

Write to: The Editor, British Nationalist, PO Box 117, Welling, Kent DA16 3DW

Sir:

I have a British father and mother. I went to Beulah Road school at Thorntown Heath in Surrey, and then to Selhurst Grammar School in Croydon. I joined the Officer Training Corps and was a first-class shot.

When the war broke out in 1939 I volunteered, but was turned down on medical grounds. I wanted to do my bit for my country and continued to volunteer - seventeen times in all. I finally got a job as an Admiralty driver, and carried personnel to ships and other establishments until 1945.

My father and mother were working in France when I was born, but returned to England when I was two months old. They registered my birth at the British Consulate in Paris, therefore there was no record at Somerset House.

I am now 73, and would like to travel abroad before I kick the bucket, but I now understand that the only way to get a passport is to become naturalised as a British citizen. Not only will this cost me £170, but it is against my principles. I feel that my biggest mistake was to be born white, perhaps if I painted myself black I would get what I feel to be rightly mine.

I am now a member of the BNP, and wish them all they wish themselves and places in Parliament.

Mr. J. Crisp, Milton Keynes

Sir:

In a recent issue you included an Inland Revenue internal circular concerning the performance of ethnic minority staff in relation to whites.

I enclose a recent circular from the Employment Service (BN page 3). Its aim is to 'enhance the career prospects of staff from the ethnic minorities'. For those who do not work for the ES, I should tell you that there have been virtually no promotion prospects for several years. None, in fact, for the lower grades - even if, like myself, you have years of 'fitted for the next grade' markings.

Thanks to the stunning new initiative detailed in the circular I imagine that ethnic minorities will now be leap-frogging white staff.

So much for equal opportunities! Name and address supplied.

Sir:

I am increasing my order to two copies of BN each month, in order to give away one copy.

I am not either a member of the BNP, or of any other party, but I appreciate British National Party General Fund EMERGENCY APPEAL £20,000 needed!

To all readers and BNP supporters

You will see elsewhere in this issue an announcement that the BNP Legal Fund has met its target and has been closed. Whilst we deeply appreciate the contributions donated to this fund, it is a fact that these have vastly reduced the amount of money that party supporters have been able to contribute to general funds over the past few months. The result is that these funds have become alarmingly depleted.

This is just at a time when the BNP, due to its expansion, needs to spend more money than ever. In consequence we now have what can only be described as a financial emergency. If we do not raise a great deal of money - quickly - the party's development will grind to a halt.

We can overcome this emergency - but only with your help. This month we are launching a BNP General Emergency Fund with a target of £20,000. I ask all those who want to see the party continue its expansion to contribute generously to this fund so that the emergency may be met. We need some big sacrifices in order that our funds may be topped up for the campaigns ahead and in order that we may sustain our drive to make the party operate more efficiently at every level.

You will know that none of us who gives his whole time to the party is affluent. Nevertheless, believing it is right to practise what one preaches I am starting off the new appeal with a donation of my own of £500. Will some of you match it? Can some of you who are better off improve on it?

In any event, even if you can't give on this scale please take it from me that every little contribution received is greatly appreciated. Thousands of people read this newspaper each month - indeed it is seen all over the world. If every reader gave even a very small amount our target would be easily met!

Are you happy with the condition of Britain? Of course not - or you would not read this paper! Look at the front page of this edition for what lies ahead in Britain if nothing is done!

Our party is growing steadily in numbers and influence despite all the media lies about us. Time to invest in yours and your family's future, and pull together as the British have done in countless times past.

We will keep readers abreast of the Appeal's progress month by month.

Please mark all donations 'BNP General Fund' and send them to our address at: PO Box 117, Welling, Kent DA16 3DW

Please don't let us down!

JOHN TYNDALL

Legal Fund meets target!

Contributions to the British National Party Legal Fund last month enabled it to reach its intended target of £16,000, and the fund is therefore now closed.

The party takes this opportunity to thank most sincerely all those who have donated money to the fund during a very few months.

The action against Bexley Council, concerning the use of the party's bookshop in Welling, for which purpose the fund was raised, is due to be heard at Crayford Town Hall, in South London, beginning on April 20th.

We draw reader's attention to the newly opened BNP General Fund Emergency appeal, details of which are printed elsewhere in this issue. The new fund is vital to the BNP's development.

ELECTION RESULT

BNP TOPS 16% IN EAST LONDON

THE British National Party again scored an excellent election result in Tower Hamlets' Weavers Ward on February 23. The party's candidate David King won 486 votes, beating the official Liberals. The Tories, following their humiliation in Lansbury Ward during December, when they scored 23 votes, did not even put up a candidate!

The party's 16.1% in Weavers Ward continues a more than two year run of electoral success all over London. London results have averaged about 20% during that period.

As David King told BBC TV News, the Tories and Liberals would do well to consider giving up! The official Liberals ran Tower Hamlets until last May, but are now regularly beaten by the BNP.

DAVID KING: Excellent 16.1% in East London during February, coming third out of five candidates

SPLIT VOTE

The BNP result would have been even better without the white vote being split by the intervention of an Independent Liberal candidate, who won about 60 votes more than the BNP. The Independent put out a manifesto with watered down BNP policies - splitting the pro-white vote.

Labour are on a roll at the moment, as a result of disillusion with the Tory Government. When the inevitable disillusion breaks through - not far away - the BNP will be well placed to reap the benefit.

Labour 1388

What we stand for

- The establishment of a government of national unity that will put an end to nationally divisive party warfare; the return of leadership and statesmanship to British affairs.
- An end to immigration and a start to repatriation.
- British withdrawal from the European Community: trade with Europe where it suits us but no political ties.
- The disbanding of the multi-racial Commonwealth and its replacement by a new Commonwealth of self-governing white states.
- British ownership and control of British industry and resources.
- Protection of British industry by the selective exclusion of foreign manufactured goods from the British market.
- An end to the financial swindle that causes inflation and slump, and its replacement by a sane and fair financial system that will give the people the purchasing power to buy the goods they produce.
- The subordination of the power of the City to the power of Government, and the harnessing of the City to the needs of British industry.
- The regeneration of British farming, with the object of achieving the maximum self-sufficiency in food; also the restoration of the fishing industry by protection of our traditional fishing grounds.
- A healthy environment for a healthy people -- the protection of our countryside and an end to the architectural disfigurement of our towns and cities.
- Tougher treatment of criminals, including the return of the death penalty.
- A return to traditional methods of education, with stronger discipline in the classroom and the sacking of 'trendy' teachers.
- An alternative defence strategy: withdrawal from NATO; closure of all foreign military and air bases in Britain; British withdrawal from the war in former Yugoslavia, where no British interest is at stake; the bringing home of British forces from Germany; the strengthening of Britain's defences and a position of armed neutrality.
- An end to overseas aid and the allocation of the money saved to the financing of repatriation and greater help for the needy at home.
- The crushing of the IRA, and the termination of the Anglo-Irish agreement and firm support for the loyalist majority in Northern Ireland.
- A return to healthy moral values aimed at strengthening the family and community.
